

Is our reading program the right fit for your child?

There are many reasons that a student might be struggling. This checklist will help you identify if our program is the right fit for your kiddo.

This program starts with the correct pronunciation, phonics, and fluency for specific letter sounds and combinations. Without this solid foundation, more complex sounds and words are nearly impossible.

Some signs that your kiddo would benefit from this reading program:

- Your child has trouble accurately pronouncing the sound that a letter makes. For example:
 - When you ask them what sound a W makes, they will likely say "duh" instead of "wuh".
 - Or, they pronounce a J like a G sound.
- Your child confuses p,d, b, and q - and they take more than 10 seconds to figure the word/sound out (or just can't read the word). By the way, reversing these letters occasionally is a normal behavior for students up to 2nd grade level, but if they consistently mix these up or can't accurately pronounce words, then this is the right place to start.
- Your child struggles with level one books, such as Pete The Cat, Pinkalicious, The Fat Cat Sat on the Mat, Go Bot Go, and more.

Parent-Guided Reading Assessment

On the next page is a list of 20 words. Sit down with your child and have them read each word to you, without you helping or sounding the word out. If they can't get it within 10 seconds, reassure them that it's ok, and move along to the next word.

If they either:

1. can't pronounce the word at all,
2. or if they pronounce the word incorrectly,

Then mentally mark that word in your mind as incorrect. You do not have to tell the child if they got it right or wrong - this is for you to assess their reading level to see if this program is a good fit. If your child gets more than two incorrect, then our program is the right fit place to start.
